Risk Factors

The SEC requires the company to identify risks that are specific to its business and its financial condition. The company is still subject to all the same risks that all companies in its business, and all companies in the economy, are exposed to. These include risks relating to economic downturns, political and economic events and technological developments (such as hacking and the ability to prevent hacking). Additionally, early-stage companies are inherently more risky than more developed companies. You should consider general risks as well as specific risks when deciding whether to invest.

These are the risks that relate to the Company:

Uncertain Risk
An investment in the Company (also referred to as "we", "us", "our", or the "Company") involves a high degree of risk and should only be considered by those who can afford the loss of their entire investment. Furthermore, the purchase of any securities should only be undertaken by persons whose financial resources are sufficient to enable them to indefinitely retain an illiquid investment. Each investor in the Company should research thoroughly any offering before making an investment decision and consider all of the information provided regarding the Company as well as the following risk factors, in addition to the other information in the Company's Form C. The following risk factors are not intended, and shall not be deemed to be, a complete description of the commercial, financial, and other risks inherent in the investment in the Company.

Our business projections are only projections
There can be no assurance that the Company will meet its projections. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to find sufficient demand for its product or service, that people think it's a better option than a competing product or service, or that we will be able to provide a product or service at a level that allows the Company to generate revenue, make a profit, or grow the business.

Any valuation is difficult to assess
The valuation for the offering was established by the Company. Unlike listed companies that are independently valued through market-driven stock prices, the valuation of private companies, especially startups, is difficult to assess, may not be exact, and you may risk overpaying for your investment.

The transferability of the Securities you are buying is limited

You should be prepared to hold this investment for several years or longer. For the 12 months following your investment, there will be restrictions on the securities you purchase. More importantly, there are a limited number of established markets for the resale of these securities. As a result, if you decide to sell these securities in the future, you may not be able to find, or may have difficulty finding, a buyer, and you may have to locate an interested buyer when you do seek to resell your investment. The Company may be acquired by an existing player in the industry. However, that may never happen or it may happen at a price that results in you losing money on this investment.

Your investment could be illiquid for a long time
You should be prepared to hold this investment for several years or longer. For the 12 months following your investment, there will be restrictions on how you can resell the securities you receive. More importantly, there are limited established markets for these securities. As a result, if you decide to sell these securities in the future, you may not be able to find a buyer. The Company may be acquired by an existing player in the same or a similar industry. However, that may never happen or it may happen at a price that results in you losing money on this investment.

The Company may undergo a future change that could affect your investment
The Company may change its business, management or advisory team, IP portfolio, location of its principal place of business or production facilities, or other change which may result in adverse effects on your investment. Additionally, the Company may alter its corporate structure through a merger, acquisition, consolidation, or other restructuring of its current corporate entity structure. Should such a future change occur, it would be based on management's review and determination that it is in the best interests of the Company.

Your information rights are limited with limited post-closing disclosures
The Company is required to disclose certain information about the Company, its business plan, and its anticipated use of proceeds, among other things, in this offering. Early-stage companies may be able to provide only limited information about their business plan and operations because it does not have fully developed operations or a long history to provide more disclosure. The Company is also only obligated to file information annually regarding its business, including financial statements. In contrast to publicly listed companies, investors will be entitled only to that post-offering information that is required to be disclosed to them pursuant to applicable law or regulation, including Regulation CF. Such disclosure generally requires only that the Company issue an annual report via a Form C-AR. Investors are generally not entitled to interim updates or financial information.

Some early-stage companies may lack professional guidance
Some companies attribute their success, in part, to the guidance of professional early-stage advisors, consultants, or investors (e.g., angel investors or venture capital firms). advisors, consultants, or investors may play an important role in a company through their resources, contacts, and experience in assisting early-stage companies in executing their business plans. An early-stage company primarily financed through Regulation Crowdfunding may not have the benefit of such professional investors, which may pose a risk to your investment.

If the Company cannot raise sufficient funds it will not succeed
The Company is offering Common Stock in the amount of up to $1,234,998.80 in this offering, and may close on any investments that are made. Even if the maximum amount is raised, the Company is likely to need additional funds in the future in order to grow, and if it cannot raise those funds for whatever reason, including reasons relating to the Company itself or the broader economy, it may not survive. If the Company manages to raise only the minimum amount of funds sought, it will have to find other sources of funding for some of the plans outlined in "Use of Proceeds."

We may not have enough capital as needed and may be required to raise more capital.
We anticipate needing access to credit in order to support our working capital requirements as we grow. It is a difficult environment for obtaining credit on favorable terms. If we cannot obtain credit when we need it, we could be forced to raise additional equity capital, modify our growth plans, or take some other action. Issuing more equity may require bringing on additional investors. Securing these additional investors could require pricing our equity below its current price. If so, your investment could lose value as a result of this additional dilution. In addition, even if the equity is not priced lower, your ownership percentage would be decreased with the addition of more investors. If we are unable to find additional investors willing to provide capital, then it is possible that we will choose to cease our sales activity. In that case, the only asset remaining to generate a return on your investment could be our intellectual property. Even if we are not forced to cease our sales activity, the unavailability of credit could result in the Company performing below expectations, which could adversely impact the value of your investment.

Terms of subsequent financings may adversely impact your investment
We will likely need to engage in common equity, debt, or preferred stock financings in the future, which may reduce the value of your investment in the Company. Interest on debt securities could increase costs and negatively impact operating results. Preferred stock could be issued in series from time to time with such designation, rights, preferences, and limitations as needed to raise capital. The terms of preferred stock could be more advantageous to those investors than to the holders of common stock or other securities. In addition, ifwe need to raise more equity capital from the sale of Common Stock, institutional or other investors may negotiate terms that are likely to be more favorable than the terms of your investment, and possibly a lower purchase price per security.

Management's Discretion as to Use of Proceeds

Our success will be substantially dependent upon the discretion and judgment of our management team with respect to the application and allocation of the proceeds of this offering. The Use of Proceeds described below is an estimate based on our current business plan. We, however, may find it necessary or advisable to re-allocate portions of the net proceeds reserved for one category to another, and we will have broad discretion in doing so.

Projections: Forward Looking Information
Any projections or forward-looking statements regarding our anticipated financial or operational performance are hypothetical and are based on management's best estimate of the probable results of our operations and may not have been reviewed by our independent accountants. These projections are based on assumptions that management believes are reasonable. Some assumptions invariably will not materialize due to unanticipated events and circumstances beyond management's control. Therefore, actual results of operations will vary from such projections, and such variances may be material. Any projected results cannot be guaranteed.

The amount raised in this offering may include investments from company insiders or immediate family members
Officers, directors, executives, and existing owners with a controlling stake in the Company (or their immediate family members) may make investments in this offering. Any such investments will be included in the raised amount reflected on the campaign page.

Supply Chain and Logistics Risks
The availability of raw materials, transportation costs, and supply chain disruptions can all impact the ability to manufacture and distribute products or services, leading to lost revenue or increased costs. Products and services that are not available when customers need them can lead to lost sales and damage to the brand's reputation.

Quality and Safety of our Product and Service
The quality of a product or service can vary depending on the manufacturer or provider. Poor quality can result in customer dissatisfaction, returns, and lost revenue. Furthermore, products or services that are not safe can cause harm to customers and result in liability for the manufacturer or provider. Safety issues can arise from design flaws, manufacturing defects, or improper use.

Minority Holder; Securities with Voting Rights
The Common Stock that an investor is buying has voting rights attached to them. However, you will be part of the minority shareholders of the Company and have agreed to appoint the Chief Executive Officer of the Company (the "CEO"), or his or her successor, as your voting proxy. You are trusting in management discretion in making good business decisions that will grow your investments. Furthermore, in the event of a liquidation of our Company, you will only be paid out if there is any cash remaining after all of the creditors of our Company have been paid out.

You are trusting that management will make the best decision for the company
You are trusting in management's discretion. You are buying securities as a minority holder, and therefore must trust the management of the Company to make good business decisions that grow your investment.

Insufficient Funds
The Company might not sell enough securities in this offering to meet its operating needs and fulfill its plans, in which case it may cease operating and result in a loss on your investment. Even if we sell all the Common Stock we are offering now, the Company may need to raise more funds in the future, and if unsuccessful in doing so, the Company will fail. Even if we do make a successful offering in the future, the terms of that offering might result in your investment in the Company being worth less, if later investors have better terms than those in this offering.

This offering involves "rolling closings," which may mean that earlier investors may not have the benefit of information that later investors have.
Once we meet our target amount for this offering, we may request that StartEngine instruct the escrow agent to disburse offering funds to us. At that point, investors whose subscription agreements have been accepted will become our investors. All early-stage companies are subject to a number of risks and uncertainties, and it is not uncommon for material changes to be made to the offering terms, or to companies' businesses, plans, or prospects, sometimes with little or no notice. When such changes happen during the course of an offering, we must file an amendment to our Form C with the SEC, and investors whose subscriptions have not yet been accepted will have the right to withdraw their subscriptions and get their money back. Investors whose subscriptions have already been accepted, however, will already be our investors and will have no such right.

Non-accredited investors may not be eligible to participate in a future merger or acquisition of the Company and may lose a portion of their investment
Investors should be aware that under Rule 145 under the Securities Act of 1933 if they invest in a company through Regulation CrowdFunding and that company becomes involved in a merger or acquisition, there may be significant regulatory implications. Under Rule 145, when a company plans to acquire another and offers its shares as part of the deal, the transaction may be deemed an offer of securities to the target company's investors, because investors who can vote (or for whom a proxy is voting on their behalf) are making an investment decision regarding the securities they would receive. All investors, even those with non-voting shares, may have rights with respect to the merger depending on relevant state laws. This means the acquirer's "offer" to the target's investors would require registration or an exemption from registration

(such as Reg.Dor Reg. CF), the burden of which can be substantial. As a result, non-accredited investors may have their shares repurchased rather than receiving shares in the acquiring company or participating in the acquisition. This may result in investors' shares being repurchased at a value determined by a third party, which may be at a lesser value than the original purchase price. Investors should consider the possibility of a cash buyout in such circumstances, which may not be commensurate with the long-term investment they anticipate.

Our new product could fail to achieve the sales projections we expect
Our growth projections are based on the assumption that with an increased advertising and marketing budget, our products will be able to gain traction in the marketplace at a faster rate than our current products have. It is possible that our new products will fail to gain market acceptance for any number of reasons. If the new products fail to achieve significant sales and acceptance in the marketplace, this could materially and adversely impact the value of your investment.

We face significant market competition
We will compete with larger, established companies that currently have products on the market and/or various respective product development programs. They may have much better financial means and marketing/sales and human resources than us. They may succeed in developing and marketing competing equivalent products earlier than us, or superior products than those developed by us. There can be no assurance that competitors will not render our technology or products obsolete or that the products developed by us will be preferred to any existing or newly developed technologies. It should further be assumed that competition will intensify.

Intense Market Competition
The market in which the company operates may be highly competitive, with established players, emerging startups, and potential future entrants. The presence of competitors can impact the company's ability to attract and retain customers, gain market share, and generate sustainable revenue. Competitors with greater financial resources, brand recognition, or established customer bases may have a competitive advantage, making it challenging for the company to differentiate itself and achieve long-term success.

Vulnerability to Economic Conditions
Economic conditions, both globally and within specific markets, can significantly influence the success of early-stage startups. Downturns or recessions may lead to reduced consumer spending, limited access to capital, and decreased demand for the company's products or services. Additionally, factors such as inflation, interest rates, and exchange rate fluctuations can affect the cost of raw materials, operational expenses, and profitability, potentially impacting the company's ability to operate.

Uncertain Regulatory Landscape
Due to the unestablished nature of the market the business operates within, the potential introduction of new laws or industry-specific standards can impose additional costs and operational burdens on the company. Non-compliance or legal disputes may result in fines, penalties, reputational damage, or even litigation, adversely affecting the company's financial condition and ability to operate effectively.

Our trademarks, copyrights and other intellectual property could be unenforceable or ineffective
Intellectual property is a complex field of law in which few things are certain. It is possible that competitors will be able to design around our intellectual property, find prior art to invalidate it, or render the patents unenforceable through some other mechanism. If competitors are able to bypass our trademark and copyright protection without obtaining a sublicense, it is likely that the Company's value will be materially and adversely impacted. This could also impair the Company's ability to compete in the marketplace. Moreover, if our trademarks and copyrights are deemed unenforceable, the Company will almost certainly lose any potential revenue it might be able to raise by entering into sublicenses. This would cut off a significant potential revenue stream for the Company.

The cost of enforcing our trademarks and copyrights could prevent us from enforcing them
Trademark and copyright litigation has become extremely expensive. Even if we believe that a competitor is infringing on one or more of our trademarks or copyrights, we might choose not to file suit because we lack the cash to successfully prosecute a multi-year litigation with an uncertain outcome; or because we believe that the cost of enforcing our trademark(s) or copyright(s) outweighs the value of winning the suit in light of the risks and consequences of losing it; or for some other reason. Choosing not to enforce our trademark(s) or copyright(s) could have adverse consequences for the Company, including undermining the credibility of our intellectual property, reducing our ability to enter into sublicenses, and weakening our attempts to prevent competitors from entering the market. As a result, if we are unable to enforce our trademark(s) or copyright(s) because of the cost of enforcement, your investment in the Company could be significantly and adversely affected.

The loss of one or more of our key personnel, or our failure to attract and retain other highly qualified personnel in the future, could harm our business
Our business depends on our ability to attract, retain, and develop highly skilled and qualified employees. As we grow, we will need to continue to attract and hire additional employees in various areas, including sales, marketing, design, development, operations, finance, legal, and human resources. However, we may face competition for qualified candidates, and we cannot guarantee that we will be successful in recruiting or retaining suitable employees. Additionally, if we make hiring mistakes or fail to develop and train our employees adequately, it could have a negative impact on our business, financial condition, or operating results. We may also need to compete with other companies in our industry for highly skilled and qualified employees. If we are unable to attract and retain the right talent, it may impact our ability to execute our business plan successfully, which could adversely affect the value of your investment. Furthermore, the economic environment may affect our ability to hire qualified candidates, and we cannot predict whether we will be able to find the right employees when we need them. This would likely adversely impact the value of your investment.

Our ability to sell our product or service is dependent on outside government regulation which can be subject to change at any time
Our ability to sell our products is subject to various government regulations, including but not limited to, regulations related to the manufacturing, labeling, distribution, and sale of our products. Changes in these regulations, or the enactment of new regulations, could impact our ability to sell our products or increase our compliance costs. Furthermore, the regulatory landscape is subject to regular change, and we may face challenges in adapting to such changes, which could adversely affect our business, financial condition, or operating results. In addition to government regulations, we may also be subject to other laws and regulations related to our products, including intellectual property laws, data privacy laws, and consumer protection laws. Non-compliance with these laws and regulations could result in legal and financial liabilities, reputational damage, and regulatory fines and penalties. It is also possible that changes in public perception or cultural norms regarding our products may impact demand for our products, which could adversely affect our business and financial performance, which may adversely affect your investment.

We rely on third parties to provide services essential to the success of our business
Our business relies on a variety of third-party vendors and service providers, including but not limited to manufacturers, shippers, accountants, lawyers, public relations firms, advertisers, retailers, and distributors. Our ability to maintain high-quality operations and services depends on these third-party vendors and service providers, and any failure or delay in their performance could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and operating results. We may have limited control over the actions of these third-party vendors and service providers, and they may be subject to their own operational, financial, and reputational risks. We may also be subject to contractual or legal limitations in our ability to terminate relationships with these vendors or service providers or seek legal recourse for their actions. Additionally, we may face challenges in finding suitable replacements for these vendors and service providers, which could cause delays or disruptions to our operations. The loss of key or other critical vendors and service providers could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, and operating results, and as a result, your investment could be adversely impacted by our reliance on these third-party vendors and service providers.

The Company is vulnerable to hackers and cyber-attacks
As an internet-based business, we may face risks related to cybersecurity and data protection. We rely on technology systems to operate our business and store and process sensitive data, including the personal information of our investors. Any significant disruption or breach of our technology systems, or those of our third-party service providers, could result in unauthorized access to our systems and data, and compromise the security and privacy of our investors. Moreover, we may be subject to cyber-attacks or other malicious activities, such as hacking, phishing, or malware attacks, that could result in theft, loss, or destruction of our data, disruption of our operations, or damage to our reputation. We may also face legal and regulatory consequences, including fines, penalties, or litigation, in the event of a data breach or cyber-attack. Any significant disruption or downtime of our platform, whether caused by cyber-attacks, system failures, or other factors, could harm our reputation, reduce the attractiveness of our platform, and result in a loss of investors and issuer companies. Moreover, disruptions in the services of our technology provider or other third-party service providers could adversely impact our business operations and financial condition. This would likely adversely impact the value of your investment.

Economic and market conditions
The Company's business may be affected by economic and market conditions, including changes in interest rates, inflation, consumer demand, and competition, which could adversely affect the Company's business, financial condition, and operating results.

Force majeure events
The Company's operations may be affected by force majeure events, such as natural disasters, pandemics, acts of terrorism, war, or other unforeseeable events, which could disrupt the Company's business and operations and adversely affect its financial condition and operating results.

Adverse publicity
The Company's business may be negatively impacted by adverse publicity, negative reviews, or social media campaigns that could harm the Company's reputation, business, financial condition, and operating results.

Voting Proxy. Each Subscriber shall appoint the Chief Executive Officer of the Company (the "CEO"), or his or her successor, as the Subscriber's true and lawful proxy and attorney, with the power to act alone and with full power of substitution, to, consistent with this instrument and on behalf of the Subscriber, (i) vote all Securities, (ii) give and receive notices and communications, (iii) execute any instrument or document that the CEO determines is necessary or appropriate in the exercise of its authority under this instrument, and (iv) take all actions necessary or appropriate in the judgment of the CEO for the accomplishment of the foregoing. The proxy and power granted by the Subscriber pursuant to this Section are coupled with an interest. Such proxy and power will be irrevocable. The proxy and power, so long as the Subscriber is an individual, will survive the death, incompetency and disability of the Subscriber and, so long as the Subscriber is an entity, will survive the merger or reorganization of the Subscriber or any other entity holding the Securities. However, the Proxy will terminate upon the closing of a firm-commitment underwritten public offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933 covering the offer and sale of Common Stock or the effectiveness of a registration statement under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 covering the Common Stock.

What it means to be a minority holder

As a minority holder of Common Stock of this offering, you have granted your votes by proxy to the CEO of the Company. Even if you were to receive control of your voting rights, as a minority holder, you will have limited rights in regards to the corporate actions of the Company, including additional issuances of securities, company repurchases of securities, a sale of the Company or its significant assets, or company transactions with related parties. Further, investors in this offering may have rights less than those of other investors, and will have limited influence on the corporate actions of the Company.

Dilution

Investors should understand the potential for dilution. The investor's stake in a company could be diluted due to the Company issuing additional shares. In other words, when the Company issues more shares, the percentage of the Company that you own will go down, even though the value of the Company may go up. You will own a smaller piece of a larger company. This increase in the number of shares outstanding could result from a stock offering (such as an initial public offering, another crowdfunding round, a venture capital round, or angel investment), employees exercising stock options, or by conversion of certain instruments (e.g. convertible bonds, preferred shares or warrants) into stock. If the Company decides to issue more shares, an investor could experience value dilution, with each share being worth less than before, and control dilution, with the total percentage an investor owns being less than before. There may also be earnings dilution, with a reduction in the amount earned per share (though this typically occurs only if the Company offers dividends, and most early-stage companies are unlikely to offer dividends, preferring to invest any earnings into the Company).

Transferability of securities

For a year, the securities can only be resold:

- In an IPO;
- To the company;

- To an accredited investor; and
- To a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, to a trust controlled by the purchaser, to a trust created for the benefit of a member of the family of the purchaser or the equivalent, or in connection with the death or divorce of the purchaser or other similar circumstance.

Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Financial Condition

You should read the following discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of our operations together with our financial statements and related notes appearing at the end of this Offering Memorandum. This discussion contains forward-looking statements reflecting our current expectations that involve risks and uncertainties. Actual results and the timing of events may differ materially from those contained in these forward-looking statements due to a number of factors, including those discussed in the section entitled “Risk Factors” and elsewhere in this Offering Memorandum.

Results of Operations

Circumstances which led to the performance of financial statements:

Revenue

Revenue for fiscal year 2025 was $2,920,777, compared to $2,821,824 in fiscal year 2024, reflecting year-over-year growth. The primary driver of this increase was the launch of our wholesale operations through Halal Foundry, which expanded our reach beyond direct-to-consumer sales. This new channel allowed us to capture larger volume orders, diversify our revenue streams, and strengthen our market position, contributing to the overall growth in revenue.

Cost of Sales

Cost of Sales for fiscal year 2025 was $1,943,363 compared to $1,949,809in fiscal year 2024. This marginal reduction is primarily attributable to improved procurement efficiencies and better supplier pricing, particularly as the Company strengthened its sourcing relationships and optimized purchasing strategies. Additionally, enhancements in inventory management and reduced wastage contributed to maintaining stable cost levels.

Despite continued growth in operations, these efficiencies helped offset inflationary pressures in meat pricing and logistics, resulting in a relatively flat cost of sales year over year.

Gross Margins

Gross margins for fiscal year 2025 were 33% compared to 29.1%in fiscal year 2024.

This increase was primarily driven by enhanced sourcing efficiencies and improved supplier pricing, as the Company strengthened its procurement strategy. Additionally, the Company benefited from a more favorable product mix, with higher-margin items contributing a greater share of revenue.

Operational improvements, including better inventory management and reduced shrinkage/wastage, also supported margin expansion. Furthermore, continued growth in scale allowed the Company to better absorb fixed costs and optimize logistics, contributing to overall margin improvement.

Expenses

Expenses for fiscal year 2025 were $1,104,614 compared to $993,224 in fiscal year 2024.

This increase is primarily attributable to continued investment in growth initiatives, including expansion of operations, enhancement of logistics and cold-chain capabilities, and increased marketing and customer acquisition efforts. The Company also incurred higher personnel and administrative costs to support its growing customer base and operational scale.

Additionally, investments in technology, infrastructure, and new business verticals contributed to the rise in expenses. These expenditures are aligned with the Company's long-term strategy to scale operations and improve overall efficiency.

Historical results and cash flows:

Our historical results and cash flows provide a strong foundation but are not fully representative of the future potential of the company. Historically, cash flows have been primarily driven by direct-to-consumer retail sales and supported by equity investments. In 2024, we began expanding into wholesale distribution through Halal Foundry, which diversified our revenue base and contributed to top-line growth.

Looking ahead, we expect revenues and cash flows to grow meaningfully as we scale several new initiatives, including:

Wholesale expansion through Halal Foundry (larger volume contracts and repeat B2B sales).

Retail smart kiosks in mosques, universities, hospitals, and businesses, which will provide recurring revenue streams.

Cooked products and meals for grocery stores, kiosks, and direct delivery, tapping into the convenience-driven segment of the halal market.

Geographic expansion into the Midwest and East Coast, unlocking new regional markets.

Because of these initiatives, we believe future results will show higher revenues, stronger cash flows, and improved margins compared to historical performance. Our vertically integrated model (procurement, processing, logistics, and retail) gives us the scalability and efficiency to sustain this growth while maintaining profitability.

In summary, while historical results highlight the strength of our existing retail foundation, investors should expect continued growth and diversification of revenue streams as we execute on our strategic expansion.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

What capital resources are currently available to the Company? (Cash on hand, existing lines of credit, shareholder loans, etc...)

As of 4/10/2026 the Company's cash on hand is $156,066 Cash on hand is primarily generated through operations, investments and then reinvested into inventory, logistics, and expansion initiatives.

Shareholder equity contributions, which have historically been used to fund growth and working capital needs.

The Company does not maintain any lines of credit or shareholder loans at this time, which means we operate with low leverage and maintain financial flexibility.

Going forward, we expect to supplement these resources with the funds raised through our StartEngine crowdfunding campaign, which will be used to accelerate growth initiatives such as wholesale expansion, smart kiosks, cooked meal production, and geographic reach.

How do the funds of this campaign factor into your financial resources? (Are these funds critical to your company operations? Or do you have other funds or capital resources available?)

The funds from this campaign are not critical to the continuation of our core operations, as the Company has historically funded its growth primarily through cash flow from sales and shareholder equity contributions. We operate with low leverage and maintain financial flexibility without relying on debt or lines of credit.

That said, the funds raised through this campaign are an important strategic accelerator. They will allow us to expand faster into key growth areas, including wholesale distribution (Halal Foundry), smart retail kiosks, cooked product lines, and geographic expansion into new regions. These initiatives require upfront investment in equipment, logistics, and marketing to reach scale more efficiently.

In short, while the Company has other resources available to sustain operations, the funds from this campaign will enable us to accelerate growth, capture market share more quickly, and enhance long-term value for our investors.

Are the funds from this campaign necessary to the viability of the company? (Of the total funds that your company has, how much of that will be made up of funds raised from the crowdfunding campaign?)

The funds from this campaign are not necessary to the viability of the Company. One Stop Halal has a proven track record of sustaining its operations through cash flows from sales and periodic equity contributions from shareholders. We have historically grown the business without reliance on outside financing, and our operations can continue based on our current financial resources.

That said, the funds raised through this campaign will represent an important supplement to our capital base, enabling us to accelerate growth initiatives such as wholesale distribution, cooked product lines, and smart retail expansion. While exact proportions will depend on the final amount raised, these funds will account for a minority share of our total financial resources, with the majority still being generated by ongoing operations.

In summary, the campaign funds are intended to fuel growth and expansion, not to maintain the basic viability of the Company.

How long will you be able to operate the company if you raise your minimum? What expenses is this estimate based on?

If we raise our minimum funding target, we expect to operate and continue executing our growth strategy for at least 12–18 months without requiring additional outside capital.

This estimate is based on a detailed analysis of our core operating expenses, including:

- Inventory procurement and production costs

- Cold storage and fulfillment logistics

- Smart kiosk deployment and support

- Marketing and customer acquisition

- Technology and platform maintenance

- Payroll for essential team members

Our existing business already generates ongoing revenue from online and wholesale sales, which covers a significant portion of our fixed costs. The funds raised at the minimum level will be used strategically to support targeted expansion initiatives—such as deploying smart kiosks, launching our cooked meals line, and extending our logistics network—while maintaining healthy operational cash flow.

This approach allows us to scale efficiently while remaining financially responsible.

How long will you be able to operate the company if you raise your maximum funding goal?

If we raise our maximum funding goal, we anticipate having sufficient capital to operate and aggressively scale One Stop Halal for the next 24 to 30 months, without the need for additional outside funding.

This extended runway would allow us to not only maintain core operations but also invest deeply in key areas of growth, including:

- Nationwide rollout of our smart halal kiosks

- Cooked meals production and distribution to grocery stores and kiosks

- Wholesale expansion through Halal Foundry, including infrastructure and team growth

- Cold chain logistics and warehousing upgrades for national coverage

- Marketing campaigns and technology improvements to support higher customer volume

- Hiring and training for key operational roles

Raising the full amount will accelerate our long-term vision of building the most trusted and vertically integrated halal food company in America—while keeping us financially stable, debt-free, and fully aligned with our values.

Are there any additional future sources of capital available to your company? (Required capital contributions, lines of credit, contemplated future capital raises, etc...)

Currently, the Company has not contemplated additional future sources of capital.

A review includes primarily applying analytical procedures to management's financial data and making inquiries of Company management. Accountant's Conclusion:
Based on our review, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying financial statements in order for them to be in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Substantial Doubt About the Entity's Ability to Continue as a Going Concern:
As discussed in Note 1, specific circumstances raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern in the foreseeable future. The provided financial statements have not been adjusted for potential requirements in case the Company cannot continue its operations. Management's plans in regard to these matters are also described in Note 1. Our opinion is not modified with respect to the matter.

One Stop Halal, Inc. ("the Company") d/b/a Halal Foundry was formed in California, on March 9th, 2017. The Company earns revenue from the sale of halal meat products, which customers can purchase through the online platform or by placing orders over the phone. The company employs a mail-order system to deliver halal meat to customers after they place an order. The Company's headquarters is in Los Angeles, California. The Company's customers are located in the United States.

The Company intends to launch a Regulation CF crowdfunding campaign in 2026 to raise capital in support of its growth initiatives.

Risks & Uncertainties:

The Company's financial instruments that are exposed to concentrations of credit risk primarily consist of its cash and cash equivalents. The Company places its cash and cash equivalents with financial institutions of high credit worthiness. The Company's management plans to assess the financial strength and creditworthiness of any parties to which it extends funds, and as such, it believes that any associated credit risk exposures are limited.

The Company faces the risk that its history of operating losses and dependence on external financing may adversely affect its liquidity position if anticipated revenue growth or planned capital raises do not materialize as expected. Management intends to mitigate this risk through continued execution of its revenue growth initiatives across existing and new channels and by actively pursuing additional equity and debt financing to support working capital and strategic expansion.

The Company is exposed to the risk that increases in input costs or operational inefficiencies could constrain margin improvement and delay the achievement of sustainable profitability. Management plans to mitigate this risk by implementing cost-management measures, enhancing procurement and inventory practices, and investing in supply chain and logistics capabilities to improve gross margins and operational scalability.

Substantial Doubt about the Entity's Ability to Continue as a Going Concern:

The accompanying balance sheet has been prepared on a going concern basis, which means that the entity expects to continue its operations and meet its obligations in the normal course of business during the next twelve months. Conditions and events creating the doubt include the fact that the Company has commenced principal operations and realized losses for each year under review and may continue to generate losses. The Company's management has evaluated this condition and plans to generate revenues and raise capital as needed to meet its capital requirements. However, there is no guarantee of success in these efforts. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

NOTE 2 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation

The Company's financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"). The Company's fiscal year ends on December 31. The Company has no interest in variable interest entities and no predecessor entities.

Use of Estimates and Assumptions

In preparing these unaudited financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP, the Company's management makes estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported expenses during the reporting period.

Making estimates requires management to exercise significant judgment. It is at least reasonably possible that the estimate of the effect of a condition, situation or set of circumstances that existed at the date of the financial statements, which management considered in formulating its estimate, could change in the near term due to one or more future confirming events. Accordingly, the actual results could differ significantly from those estimates.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

FASB Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) 820 "Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures" establishes a three-tier fair value hierarchy, which prioritizes the inputs in measuring fair value. The hierarchy prioritizes the inputs into three levels based on the extent to which inputs used in measuring fair value are observable in the market.

These tiers include:

Level 1: Observable inputs such as quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly. These include quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets and quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active.

Level 3: Unobservable inputs in which little or no market data exists, therefore developed using estimates and assumptions developed by us, which reflect those that a market participant would use.

There were no material items that were measured at fair value as of December 31, 2025, and December 31, 2024.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all short-term investments with an original maturity of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents. The Company had $507,963 and $5,035 in cash and cash equivalents as of December 31, 2025, and December 31, 2024, respectively.

Inventory

The company maintains a diverse inventory of over 500 halal meat cuts, including staples like chicken and beef, as well as specialty items such as wagyu and bison, plus non-perishable groceries and pet foods. Inventory levels for popular meat items typically remain at approximately 100 units per SKU, with specialty cuts stocked in smaller quantities and replenished as demand dictates. Ready-to-eat meals, cooked products, and new lines like raw pet food are regularly added, all managed using advanced inventory systems to support multiple sales channels and ensure fresh supply.

Inventory is stated at a lower cost or net realizable value using the first-in, first-out method. At December 31, 2025, and December 31, 2024, inventory consisted of finished goods totaling $495,558 and $372,958, respectively.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are recorded at cost. Expenditures for renewals and improvements that significantly add to the productive capacity or extend the useful life of an asset are capitalized. Expenditures for maintenance and repairs are charged to expenses. When equipment is retired or sold, the cost and related accumulated depreciation are eliminated from the accounts, and the resultant gain or loss is reflected in income. Depreciation is provided using the straight-line method, based on the useful lives of the assets.

The Company reviews the carrying value of property and equipment for impairment whenever events and circumstances indicate that the carrying value of an asset may not be recoverable from the estimated future cash flows expected to result from its use and eventual disposition. In cases where undiscounted expected future cash flows are less than the carrying value, an impairment loss is recognized equal to an amount by which the carrying value exceeds the fair value of assets. The factors considered by management in performing this assessment include current operating results, trends and prospects, the manner in which the property is used, and the effects of obsolescence, demand, competition, and other economic factors. Based on this assessment, there was no impairment for December 31, 2025.

A summary of the Company's property and equipment is below.

Property Type	Useful Life (in Years)	2025	2024
Warehouse Equipment	10	45,000	45,000
Delivery Vehicles	5	30,000	30,000

Less: Accumulated Depreciation		(122,071)	(85,958)
Totals		114,929	129,042

Intangible Assets

Intangible assets are recorded at cost and are presented net of accumulated amortization. Intangible assets with finite useful lives are amortized using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives. Expenditures that extend the useful life or enhance the value of existing intangible assets are capitalized, while routine maintenance and minor updates are expensed as incurred. Upon disposal, the cost and related accumulated amortization are removed from the accounts, and any resulting gain or loss is recognized in the consolidated statements of operations.

In accordance with ASC 350, Intangibles—Goodwill and Other, the Company evaluates intangible assets for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. The recoverability of finite-lived intangible assets is assessed by comparing the carrying value to the sum of the undiscounted estimated future cash flows expected to be generated by those assets. If the carrying amount exceeds the estimated undiscounted cash flows, an impairment charge is recognized for the amount by which the carrying amount exceeds the asset's fair value. Factors considered by management in conducting this assessment include current and projected operating results, trends and market conditions, and other relevant economic or technological factors.

Based on management's review, no impairment of intangible assets was identified as of December 31, 2024.

A summary of the Company's intangible assets is below.

Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes revenue from the sale of products and services in accordance with ASC 606, "Revenue from Contracts with Customers," following the five steps procedure:

Step 1: Identify the contract(s) with customers
Step 2: Identify the performance obligations in the contract
Step 3: Determine the transaction price
Step 4: Allocate the transaction price to performance obligations
Step 5: Recognize revenue when or as performance obligations are satisfied

The Company generates revenue from direct-to-consumer online retail sales through the One Stop Halal website. Its product offerings include 100% hand-slaughtered halal meats, ready-to-cook items, snacks, and grocery essentials. Payments are typically collected immediately upon purchase. The Company's primary performance obligation is to deliver high-quality, halal, and hygienic meats in a timely manner. Revenue is recognized at the time of purchase, when the Company satisfies its performance obligation by transferring the products to the customer. The Company deferred no revenue for the years ended 2025 and 2024, respectively.

The Company generates revenue from wholesale distribution sales, consisting of bulk halal meat shipments to grocery stores, restaurants, and institutional customers. All products are sourced from 100% hand-slaughtered, HFSAA-certified, and USDA-inspected halal suppliers to maintain authenticity and integrity throughout the supply chain. Payments for wholesale transactions are typically made on credit under net 21-day terms. The Company's primary performance obligation is to deliver certified halal products that meet its quality and certification standards. Revenue is recognized upon delivery, when the Company satisfies its performance obligation, and payment is subsequently received according to the agreed credit terms. No revenue was deferred for the years ended 2025 and 2024.

Advertising Costs

Advertising costs associated with marketing the Company's products and services are expensed as costs are incurred.

General and Administrative

General and administrative expenses include automobile costs, bank charges, communication expenses, office supplies, software subscriptions, utilities, repair costs, and other miscellaneous items.

Income Taxes

The Company accounts for income taxes in accordance with ASC 740, Income Taxes, which requires the recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax consequences of temporary differences between the financial reporting and tax bases of assets and liabilities.

The Company is subject to federal and applicable state income taxes. For the year ended December 31, 2024, the Company filed its federal and applicable state income tax returns, which reported no current income taxes payable or refundable for the period. The differences between income (loss) reported in the financial statements and the amounts reported in the 2024 income tax returns primarily relate to temporary differences for depreciation and accruals/other items and a net operating loss carryforward of approximately $904,740. The resulting deferred tax assets have been fully offset by a valuation allowance because management has concluded it is more likely than not that these deferred tax assets will not be realized.

For the year ended December 31, 2025, the Company was required to file an income tax return; however, the return has not yet been filed as of the date of the report. Management intends to comply with all applicable tax filing requirements and is in the process of preparing the necessary filings. No provision for income taxes has been recorded in the accompanying financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2025, as management has not yet completed the determination of any income tax liability or benefit for the period; any adjustments identified upon completion of the tax return, including the recognition of additional deferred tax assets or liabilities and any related valuation allowance, will be recorded in the period in which the information becomes available. Any penalties or interest that may arise from the late filing will be recognized when assessed or estimable, and the Company's policy is to classify such amounts as a component of income tax expense.

Management has evaluated the Company's tax positions in accordance with ASC 740, Income Taxes, and has concluded that there are no uncertain tax positions requiring recognition or disclosure as of December 31, 2025.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

The FASB issues Accounting Standards Updates (ASUs) to amend the authoritative literature in ASC. There have been a number of ASUs to date that amend the original text of ASC. Management believes that those issued to date either (i) provide supplemental guidance, (ii) are technical corrections, (iii) are not applicable to us, or (iv) are not expected to have a significant impact on our financial statements.

STARTENGINE SUBSCRIPTION PROCESS (Exhibit E)

Platform Compensation

- As compensation for the services provided by StartEngine Capital or StartEngine Primary, as identified in the Offering Statement filed on the SEC EDGAR filing system (the "Intermediary"), the issuer is required to pay to Intermediary a fee consisting of a 5.5-14% (five and one-half to fourteen) commission based on the dollar amount of securities sold in the Offering and paid upon disbursement of funds from escrow at the time of closing. The commission is paid in cash and in securities of the Issuer identical to those offered to the public in the Offering at the sole discretion of the Intermediary. Additionally, the issuer must reimburse certain expenses related to the Offering. The securities issued to the Intermediary, if any, will be of the same class and have the same terms, conditions, and rights as the securities being offered and sold by the issuer on StartEngine's platform.

- As compensation for the services provided by StartEngine, investors are also required to pay the Intermediary a fee consisting of a 0-3.5% (zero to three and a half percent) service fee based on the dollar amount of securities purchased in each investment.

Information Regarding Length of Time of Offering

- Investment Cancellations: Investors will have up to 48 hours prior to the end of the offering period to change their minds and cancel their investment commitments for any reason. Once within 48 hours of ending, investors will not be able to cancel for any reason, even if they make a commitment during this period.

- Material Changes: Material changes to an offering include but are not limited to: A change in minimum offering amount, change in security price, change in management, material change to financial information, etc. If an issuer makes a material change to the offering terms or other information disclosed, including a change to the offering deadline, investors will be given five business days to reconfirm their investment commitment. If investors do not reconfirm, their investment will be canceled and the funds will be returned.

Hitting The Target Goal Early & Oversubscriptions

- The Intermediary will notify investors by email when the target offering amount has hit 25%, 50%, and 100% of the funding goal. If the issuer hits its goal early, the issuer can create a new target deadline at least 5 business days out. Investors will be notified of the new target deadline via email and will then have the opportunity to cancel up to 48 hours before the new deadline.

- Oversubscriptions: We require all issuers to accept oversubscriptions. This may not be possible if: 1) it vaults an issuer into a different category for financial statement requirements (and they do not have the requisite financial statements); or 2) they reach $5M in investments. In the event of an oversubscription, shares will be allocated at the discretion of the issuer, with priority given to StartEngine Venture Club members.

- If the sum of the investment commitments does not equal or exceed the target offering amount at the offering deadline, no securities will be sold in the offering, investment commitments will be canceled and committed funds will be returned.

- If a StartEngine issuer reaches its target offering amount prior to the deadline, it may conduct an initial closing of the offering early if they provide notice of the new offering deadline at least five business days prior to the new offering deadline (absent a material change that would require an extension of the offering and reconfirmation of the investment commitment). StartEngine will notify investors when the issuer meets its target offering amount. Thereafter, the issuer may conduct additional closings until the offering deadline.

Minimum and Maximum Investment Amounts

- In order to invest, commit to an investment or communicate on our platform, users must open an account on StartEngine and provide certain personal and non-personal information including information related to income, net worth, and other investments.

- Investor Limitations: There are no investment limits for investing in crowdfunding offerings for accredited investors. Non-accredited investors are limited in how much they can invest in all crowdfunding offerings during any 12-month period. The limitation on how much they can invest depends on their net worth (excluding the value of their primary residence) and annual income. If either their annual income or net worth is less than $124,000, then during any 12-month period, they can invest either $2,500 or 5% of their annual income or net worth, whichever is greater. If both their annual income and net worth are equal to or more than $124,000, then during any 12-month period, they can invest up to 10% of annual income or net worth, whichever is greater, but their investments cannot exceed $124,000.

THE PITCH

One Stop Halal is redefining Halal food access in the U.S. by owning the entire supply chain—from ritual slaughter to last-mile delivery. With $10M+ in revenue, 35,000 customers, and 250,000 monthly website visitors projected by 2025, we're scaling a platform that merges convenience, quality, and compliance. We believe that our founder's background in top-tier tech firms and our vertical integration position us for potential sustainable national growth.

THE PROBLEM & OUR SOLUTION

The Problem:
Halal consumers in the U.S. often face limited access to authentic, hand-cut Zabiha Halal meat that meets strict religious guidelines. Most available options are either frozen imports or machine-cut meats from retailers with minimal product variety and little transparency into sourcing and slaughter practices.

Our Solution:
One Stop Halal provides a one-stop online destination for 100% hand-cut, never pre-stunned Zabiha Halal meat, with direct-to-door delivery. Our vertically integrated model—spanning production, warehousing, distribution, and retail—ensures quality, freshness, and ethical compliance. We're also in the process of launching smart retail kiosks and have developed a line of ready-to-eat cooked meats like Halal burgers, taco meat, and steak fingers. Our revenue comes from ecommerce, wholesale distribution, and upcoming physical retail expansion.

THE MARKET & OUR TRACTION

Market Opportunity: The U.S. halal market is estimated at $20B annually, while the global halal market is projected to reach $3T by 2032 Source: Statista. In the U.S. alone, the number of halal restaurants grew from 200 to over 10,000 in the past two decades, and giants like Costco and Walmart now carry Halal products—signaling mainstream adoption.

Our Traction: We've generated over $10 million in revenue, shipped more than 1.27 million pounds of Halal meat, and built a base of 35,000+ customers. Our website receives 120,000+ visitors/month, projected to double by the end of 2025. We've also partnered with companies to support an advanced cold storage network and logistics operation, which will aid our plans for upcoming national distribution, smart kiosks, and cooked product lines.

WHY INVEST

One Stop Halal aims to build the future of Halal food access, with plans to scale from a fast-growing ecommerce leader to a national retail and wholesale powerhouse. This raise helps us expand into cooked foods, retail kiosks, and geographic warehousing. Join us as we grow a values-driven food company built on trust, transparency, and high-quality Halal offerings.
